NEW DEVELOPMENTS IN DOLEZAL CASE

Letter To Sheriff Suggests That Two More Deaths Be Probed

(International News Service) CLEVELAND, July 10.—Frank Dolezal, 52, Cleveland torso murder suspect, twice attempted suicide in his cell at county jail early this morning, Sheriff Martin L. O'Donnell disclosed.

O'Donnell also announced receipt of a letter from Police Chief E. R. Burkholder of Wheaton, Ill., suggesting a check of the death of Dolezal's sister in Chardon, O., and the disappearance of the suspect's nephew, a Chicago youth.

First Attempt
Dolezal's first suicide attempt was made at 12:30 a. m., while deputies guarding him left his cell for a few minutes, according to the sheriff. He said Dolezal fashioned a noose with his shirt and tried to hang himself from high bars in his cell, but that the makeshift noose broke. The suspect's necktie and belt previously had been taken from him.

The second attempt was made at 4:30 a. m., when the guards surprised Dolezal as he tried to tie his shoestrings around his neck, O'Donnell said.

No Ill Effects
The suspect suffered no ill effects from either attempt. The sheriff asserted that when he visited the cell (Continued On Page Two)

Japan Reports "Invaders" Of Outer Mongolia Have Been Repulsed

(International News Service) TOKYO, July 10.—Japanese forces shot down 59 additional Soviet and outer Mongolian airplanes in routing Soviet "invaders" of Manchukuo in the vicinity of Lake Buir, an official Japanese military announcement stated today.

The planes were downed in a terrific aerial battle over the Khaika river, following which Soviet-Mongol forces were driven out of the Delta between the Holsten and Khaika rivers, the announcement said.

More than 50 tanks and armed cars, as well as many guns and large supplies of ammunition, were captured by the Japanese, it was asserted. Despite heavy casualties, 1,000 Soviet-Mongol sharpshooters with 40 tanks and 100 armored cars, succeeded in fleeing across the west bank of the Khaika.

The Japanese-Manchukuo army is in sight of this objective, war bulletins said, and the outer Mongolian frontier will be secure in two days.

After a seven-day fight, the Soviet-Mongolian troops have dropped in general retreat below the Khaika river. Badly battered by Japanese guns, said advice from the front, the Soviets lost Noro and Balshagal Heights.

Following the chicken dinner which was served, a short program of speaking was heard. Mrs. W. W. Horner, chairman of the women's golf committee, introduced Judge Thomas W. WILT HEARING TO BE POSTPONED

WILT HEARING TO BE POSTPONED

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, July 10.—A scheduled hearing on the contempt proceedings against Thomas B. Wilt, an employee of James P. Kirk, Pittsburg city treasurer, whose absence forced a six weeks' delay in Kirk's bonding conspiracy trial, was expected to be postponed today until next month.

Earl V. Compton, assistant district attorney of Dauphin county, said Wilt's hearing would not be heard until after the Kirk trial. Wilt has been subpoenaed as a common-law witness in the trial.

Meanwhile, Wilt's attorney appeared in court and renewed his $500 bond, returnable today.

The jury which was to have tried Kirk, Victor Skok, an insurance employee in Kirk's office, and H. H. Temple, former chief highways engineer, who are accused of attempting to monopolize the highway bonding business in western Pennsylvania during the Earle administration, appeared in court and was permanently excused by President Judge William M. Hargest, a new panel having already been chosen for the August 7 trial opening.

Compton said that Judge Howard W. Hughes of Washington county would make an announcement in court this afternoon. It was expected Judge Hughes would announce postponement of the Wilt hearing and would also set a date for hearing argument on the appeal for a new trial of Roy E. Brown, former highways secretary, convicted of malfeasance and nonfeasance in office.

May Call For Increases In Income Taxes

By ERIC FRIEDHEIM
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 10.—New revenue legislation calling for general increases in federal income taxes may be recommended to congress next session by the treasury.

Confronted with another $9,000,000,000 expenditure program and a $3,000,000,000 deficit during the current fiscal year, the treasury would welcome a tax boost on incomes, particularly in the $10,000 to $50,000 earning brackets.

Studies of new tax legislation will be initiated during the fall months by treasury experts who will work with members of the house ways and means and the senate finance committee.

During the past few years, the treasury's support of increased income taxes has been perfunctory largely because of congressional opposition to such proposals.

Recently, however, advocates of higher income levies have augmented their number in congress and it is the view of some treasury officials that favorable action on tax boosts might be obtained at the next session.

Senate Action On Neutrality May Be Delayed

Fierce Battle In Senate Committee To Delay Action To Next Congress

PRESIDENT SEEKS SPEED ON ISSUE

Committee Holding Decision On Early Action About Evenly Divided

By EDWARD B. LOCKETT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 10.—President Roosevelt's forces and a bitter multi-partisan opposition engaged in a fierce tussle today for votes vital to senate action at this session of congress on neutrality legislation.

The president must command support of a majority of the senate foreign relations committee at its meeting tomorrow to combat a move to postpone neutrality legislation until the next session of congress.

Lines Sharply Drawn
Lines in the committee are sharply drawn, and the issue narrowed today to the votes of two Democrats who were on the president's "purge" list in 1938—Senators George of Georgia and Gillette of Iowa.

Neither of these two senators would commit himself early today, though George hinted at a vote against neutrality action with the observation that a neutrality bill this year seemed "highly improbable."

Presuming George to be with the opposition, key members of the 23 man committee said the membership stood 11 to 11 for and against the president's demand for neutrality action—with Gillette the decisive factor and uncommunicative.

Crazed Man Is Tragedy Cause

Former Farmhand At Sparta, Wis., Goes Berserk Over Week End

MOTHER, DAUGHTER LIKELY TO RECOVER

(International News Service)
SPARTA, Ill., July 10.—A mother and daughter were in serious condition today from gunshot wounds inflicted by a temporarily crazed farmhand who ran berserk and killed Robert Williams, 56, the husband and father, before ending his own life.

The farmhand, Henry Stark, 36, returned to the Williams farm, where he had worked for 13 years, late Saturday night after an evening of drinking and a baseball bat in hand, stalked into the room occupied by Williams' twin daughters Bernice and Eunice, 19.

Sheriff H. T. Jenkins, who reported the crime, said the girls told him they awoke to find Stark standing over their bed, saying: "Keep still or I'll kill you. I've got a gun."

Father Is Killed
The girls screamed. The sheriff said, bringing Williams into the room on the run. Stark, according to the sheriff, struck the farmer over the head as he ran into the bedroom, then beat him unconscious with the bat. Williams never recovered consciousness.

Stark then ran out of the room, the sheriff said, and returned a moment later with a shotgun. Apparently completely out of his head, he fired through the door hitting Bernice and her mother, who had run into the room. Eunice escaped by running out of the house.

Stark gave chase after Eunice but when she outran him he stopped suddenly, turned the shotgun on himself and fired a fatal blast.

Mrs. Williams was in a hospital today with wounds just below her heart. Bernice received several pellets in her back.

Sheriff Jenkins said there would be no inquest. He added that Stark had harbored resentment against the Williams because they had not invited him to accompany them on a recent trip to Yellowstone Park.

It faced an uphill fight for the legitimacy vote for action on neutrality, isolation asked by the president—a law lifting the existing neutrality statute's ban on arms shipments to warring nations abroad. The house met this request with enactment over strong administration pressure of a bill retaining the arms embargo. And a powerful senate coalition claiming 34 votes has pledged its members to oppose "in every honorable way" enactment of legislation permitting shipment of arms to belligerents or in any way increasing the president's power over this country's foreign policy.

Huge Struggle Seen
If the president wins in committee tomorrow and a neutrality bill is brought to the senate floor, a struggle approaching the intensity of that which defeated the president's supreme court enlargement bill lay ahead. The senate is split into a dozen factions on the question of foreign policy, but many of these were combined in their opposition to such a law as that demanded by the executive.

Furthermore, Republicans and a number of Democrats in the house have served notice that even should the senate pass a bill satisfactory to the president, its membership would never surrender the present neutrality law's embargo provisions. Administration supporters insisted that refusal to pass a law as requested would encourage dictatorships in Europe. While opposition forces counseled a course of strict American isolation from the affairs of Europe, the new deal supporters claimed vehemently that enactment of a law permitting shipment of arms abroad to warring countries would have the effect of preventing hostilities.

This has been a good season for home gardens. With plenty of sunshine and showers vegetables have been earning their keep in fine shape. Some growers now have new potatoes, and corn in tassel. New beans, peas, onions, lettuce, beets, radishes, and carrots have been on the bill of fare for some time, and now the wily cucumber is getting ready to test your digestion. Oh, yes, we almost forgot to mention that tomatoes are looking fine and some big tomato stories are in the offing.

Farmers along the Moravia-New Galilee road are hoping that it will be hard surfaced soon. When the stone base was put in recently, it was covered with a light coating of limestone. Much of this has blown or been washed away, leaving the road rough, like Cascade street in this city, from which the loose covering has long since disappeared. When a job is undertaken, it pays to finish it at once.

County Health Officer, Thomas C. West, has been kept on the jump recently looking after alleged nuisances that are reported to him. Last month he put over one thousand miles on his buzz wagon, trying to keep the air pure and sweet as nature intended it. This will be another big month as there are always more complaints when it is hot. Many of the cases originate from sinks and cesspools drained into roadside gutters. The water becomes stagnant and is dangerous to health.

With the exception of two or three cases the city has now secured releases of damages from property owners along the proposed WPA flood prevention project on Big Run. It is believed that all will be signed up in a few days and the work can be started soon. The flood walls, which it is proposed to build, will be a big benefit to that section of the city. The project is one that has been talked about for years, but nothing has ever been done about it until the present time.

All is O. K. again. The court house clock has been on vacation, had its hands down, but has its hands before its face again, and looking forward to a steady run. The building looks fine with its white coat of paint.

Women Want Back On Sewing Project

County commissioners were visited this morning by a committee representing women who were laid off the sewing project on last Friday. They demanded that they be re-instated.

The commissioners informed them that they have nothing to do with the hiring or discharging of women on the sewing project. That is the function of the relief department. The only connection the county has with the sewing project is that of paying the rent of the building occupied, the furnishing light and heat, and materials which are used by those employed.

The committee had first visited city councilmen with a request for re-instatement, but learned that councilmen occupied the same position as the county commissioners so far as employment is concerned.

WORKERS QUIT ON W. P. A. JOB

agreed to the request and said that the men would be laid off at noon pending the settlement of the difficulty.

Walter N. Todd, manager of the Works Progress Administration, said the matter was entirely out of his hands insofar as any settlement was concerned. "We are governed by a telegram which has been posted on the boards at all projects," said he. The telegram follows:

Orders From State

Harrisburg, Pa. July 8, 1939.

New Castle, Pa.

In cases where any worker or group of workers stop work in protest against any requirement that they work 130 hours per month to earn monthly security wage it should be explained to them or their representatives that this is a requirement imposed by law and that no official of the Works Progress Administration has any authority to depart from it.

Preliminary notice of the 130 hour month was required to be given all workers in accordance with written and telegraphic instructions from this office on or prior to July 1st.

Workers should be informed that decision rests entirely in their hands as to whether they desire to accept employment under the conditions under which the Works Progress Administration can offer such employment.

Those who do not desire to accept employment under these conditions and who absent themselves from work for five consecutive working days or longer shall have their employment terminated. Copies of this telegram shall be posted on all projects and publicity may be given to its provisions in response to inquiries from the public or from local press.

E. C. SMITH, JR., Acting State Administrator.

MORE GERMAN TROOPS ON CZECH FRONTIER

WARSAW, July 10.—German troop reinforcements have arrived on the former Czech-Polish frontier, according to Polish reports from Teschen today.

CONGRESS FACES NEW BATTLE OVER WPA WAGE ISSUE

Murray (D) of Montana, McCarran (D) of Nevada, and others, will introduce a bill to liberalize the new security wage system.

Continue Strike

Meanwhile, thousands of WPA workers throughout the nation continued their strike protest against the new wage system despite WPA Commissioner Harrington's warning they would be dismissed within five days if they failed to return to work. The five days will be up tomorrow.

The striking workers were supported by a united labor front comprised of the A. F. of L., the CIO, the Workers' Alliance, a WPA laborers' union, and other similar organizations all of which objected to the WPA's present wage system.

One union, the Workers' Security Federation, recently organized and comprised chiefly of WPA workers, advised its striking members—estimated at 32,000—to return to work today. At the same time, however, the federation urged its members to continue active objections against the 130-hour work relief month.

Meetings Called

As the zero hour in the WPA's crisis neared, the A. F. of L. called a meeting of its leaders, who will meet in Washington to discuss action in the work stoppages.

At the same time, Harrington ordered WPA state administrators and regional directors to meet in Chicago Wednesday to study the new relief act. It was expected the agency's heads also will consider the WPA crisis.

Reports from cities and towns throughout the country showed thousands of WPA workers still were ignoring Harrington's five-day notice, although many were expected to return to work before tomorrow.

Council Hears Dispute On Fence

Wants Order To Have Fence Deemed Fire Hazard On Moravia Street, Removed

Attorney Sherman Levine appeared before council this morning representing Morris Lerner, proprietor of the Moravia Street Auto Wrecking company, and asked that his client be permitted to maintain a fence, recently erected around the property and which has been deemed a fire hazard by Fire Chief A. P. McIlwain.

Mr. Lerner contends that he had asked the city engineer's permission to rebuild the fence and that such permission was granted. After the fence had been put up, consisting of a seven-foot barrier of one-inch oak boards, topped by several strands of barbed wire, he was ordered to remove it because it constituted a fire hazard.

After hearing the dispute at some length, no action was taken by council.

It was first believed she had been hit by an auto but it later was determined that she had been choked. O'Donnell said the letter stated:

FAITH WHAT IS A PENSION?

We have always understood that a pension was a certain amount given OUTRIGHT each month by the Government, large corporations or individuals to person or persons who have rendered a service at some previous time, and from which the giver did not expect to receive anything in return.

But, I do not know what you would call it, when some elderly man and wife, or either one, who have worked hard all their lives, raised a family, probably educated them, paid taxes and owned a little home, but had no money to live on, and they should request the Government for a small pittance to keep soul and body together, before they can get this, they must agree to turn over their property, give up their life insurance, mortgage the cat in the back yard, and must be buried like a pauper, even though there should be some equity left in their property or should their friends want to donate something towards a respectable burial, if this is done they cannot receive the measly One Hundred Dollars that is allowed to bury them.

Whereas, if a man has worked all his life and spent his money in riotous living, maybe never paid a dollar's worth of taxes, if he needs money it is given outright to him without any questions. It seems to us that this should make a premium on spending everything you have while you live, for it will be taken away from you anyway if you should have a little hard luck.

CO-HOSTESSES HONOR FROSTBURG, MD., BRIDE

Honoring Mrs. William Clement, of Frostburg, Maryland, nee Edna Eisel, who was married May 6, a lovely luncheon-bridge was given at New Wilmington in a tea room, with Miss Betty Connelly, Mrs. A. H. Klingensmith and Mrs. Catherine Van Dyke, sharing as co-hostesses, on Saturday afternoon.

The occasion interested a group of twelve guests, who were served a delicious menu at 1:30 o'clock. The tables were prettily decorated for the occasion, and following attention was centered on little Miss Muriel Van Dyke, who entered the room and presented the honoree with a cleverly arranged basket. Upon unwrapping the packages which it contained, Mrs. Clement found many gifts of a miscellaneous nature to use in her home.

The time that ensued was devoted to card playing, with Mrs. Clement and Mrs. Lewis Cartwright capturing top honor prizes. The "galloper" fell to Mrs. Horace Shotts.

Out of town guests included Mrs. John Kraft and Mrs. Charles Anderson of Westfield, New Jersey; Mrs. Millard Hughes of LeVale, Maryland; and Mrs. Horace Shotts of Youngstown, O.

Mrs. Clement who departed for her home Sunday, was the house guest during her stay of Mrs. Van Dyke on Meyer avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Millard Hughes who accompanied her were guests in the home of Betty Connelly on Leisure avenue while in this vicinity.

FULENA-SORTO WEDDING IN ST. VITUS CHURCH

St. Vitus church was the scene of a pretty wedding ceremony Saturday morning when Miss Margaret Fulena, daughter of Mrs. Lucretia Fulena, 902 Cunningham avenue, became the bride of Louis Sorto, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dominic Sorto of 503 Uber street.

Officiating in the presence of a throng of friends and relatives of the couple was Rev. F. Butterbach, who used the impressive single ring ceremony. Mrs. Francis Celso, as soloist and organist, provided appropriate music preceding and during the exchange of vows.

Most gracious was the bride in her wedding gown of white lace, made entrain with white tulle veil, also with long train, caught in cap effect, and she carried an arm bouquet of calla lilies. As maid of honor, was her niece, Miss Victoria Lombardo, who wore a shell pink chiffon gown, toe length. A band of roses adorned her hair, and her arm bouquet was a cluster of the same.

Joe Perciavalle of Ambridge served the groom as best man.

The church altar was beautifully decorated.

Dinner was served at the groom's home to 40 guests, and in the evening a reception was held at the Union Calabro, Italian-American hall, for guests numbering upwards of 300.

Mr. and Mrs. Sorto left after midnight for Niagara Falls and other points of interest. For traveling she chose a black and white sports ensemble with matching accessories. Upon returning in ten days they will reside for the present at the groom's home.

The bride attended the local high school and the groom attended Marion, O., high school.

A host of friends and relatives attended the ceremony and the Rev. Fr. Francis DeMell, officiated using the single ring service.

Miss Virginia Speczia, sister of the bride, was her maid of honor. Patsy Diano, of New Castle was best man.

A dinner was served at a dining hall, and a reception was held in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. DeGennaro are dispensing with a wedding trip at the present time and will reside on Arendt street, in Detroit. Mr. DeGennaro is employed at the Ford plant in Detroit.

Numerous New Castle residents attended the wedding.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

CONFIDENCE FOR TIMID CHILD

To a mother whose child of five said a number of words at the age of 16 months, but who now is very slow in speech development, and very stubborn, I wrote:

"I note you are discouraged about your little boy. I think I know how you feel, but I should like to show you that your problem is not at all hopeless.

"The very fact that he talked a good deal before he was 16 months of age is most encouraging, and would indicate that he is not seriously retarded mentally. It is possible that he even has more than ordinary mentality, and that the whole problem has been emotional. At least, this emotional block has been a serious factor. You see, he is the only boy, and he is next to the baby—a pretty difficult position.

Check Hearing

"Be sure to have his hearing checked by a specialist and have a general physical examination of him by a well-trained doctor. I have a notion that his jealousy of the baby has been the largest item in his suffering. By all means place him in a good kindergarten. Attract other children his age to your home. Avoid no sacrifices that's reasonable to help him have lots of playmates his own age. When he must be punished, better avoid whipping; instead make him sit doing nothing for about 20 minutes in a chair where you can see him.

"Read a great deal aloud to him, or have the older children do so. Get him a work bench and some tools. I wish you would read carefully my chapter on "Rage and Stubbornness" and on "Punishment in the Modern Parent. The whole book might help you, also my book "Building Personality in Children." You should find them in your public library."

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

AN "OXFORD" MOVEMENT

Remember the Athletic heroes of yesterday—"Pudge" Heffelfinger, "Snake" Ames, the "Long Haired" Bliss, Alonzo Stagg, "Jim" Thorpe and a host of others whose names were blazoned on the Sport's pages of the daily Press. Well, among these heroes was one Charlie Paddock.

Charlie Paddock used to hold the 100-yard dash record in forty counties at once. On his world tour he won a new championship every day. On those days when he could get across one country in a day to a new one. Nobody ever called Charlie a sissy. He was a regular guy and he saw a lot of people and did a lot of thinking in those forty countries.

Charlie was one of those sitting in at Pasadena, at the first Pacific Coast "Moral Rearmament" meeting, called by a group of civic leaders. He didn't know exactly what "moral rearmament" was. Neither did the other guests. He was curious though. Charlie is a business executive now and he finds sometimes it's tougher than winning races. He was wondering about some of the answers.

He got to talking at one table with Bammer Hofmyr of South Africa about the great part being taken in "moral rearmament" activities throughout the world by leading athletes and professional sportsmen led by Benny Austin, the tennis player. Hofmyr said that's perfectly natural, that participants in sports going from country to country in clean competition are particularly fitted to carry on a doctrine of unselfishness and spiritual revival. Hofmyr knows, too, about the practical value of moral rearmament. A few years ago in his homeland of South Africa, the Boers were acting up again. It was a continuation of the ill-feeling of the Boer war.

The fire-eating leader of the Boer element finally got interested in moral rearmament—which is really just the Golden Rule in a twentieth century suit—and met some of the stubborn English for a parley. Upshot: settlement with everybody satisfied.

Everybody was trying to define the quality involved in this application of an old principle. One fellow said in world affairs it just means that you can't make a good omelette out of bad eggs. Another one thought it was just changing from the obvious, like the one fellow who said he was pulling his wheelbarrow behind him instead of pushing it like all the others. They asked him why and he said, "Well, just because I'm so sick of looking at the darned thing." This fellow thought if people tried putting their old troubles and selfishness behind them they might get a new slant on things. Another one said that maybe in America we have figured for so long that freedom means the right to be AGAINST things that maybe we have sort of forgotten how to be FOR things. Being for the right things, he said, is a pretty good idea, too.

As a matter of fact, "Moral Rearmament" is one of the catch phrases of the "Oxford Group." This "Oxford Group" movement would not be popular with Nazis. It is a strong effort to bring men and women back to a realization that there are such things as moral values. And it is going strong with worthwhile citizens.

There are no DONT'S in the Creed of this group.

The Human Side Of The News

The United States Golf association, in a legalistic looking document sent to all members, clears up all doubtful points as to what you may or may not do if a bolt of lightning is giving you the hot-foot, just at the moment you are about to aim a No. 7 iron at the final hole with all square. If you start a bolt of your own, you're disqualified.

The association has provided signs for the courses, and ordained rules and signals which may roughly be paraphrased as follows:

Don't stop playing, as the lightning pops, until you hear three consecutive notes from the siren, otherwise your penalty will be disqualification—alive or dead. And don't make the mistake of stepping up to the green just because the storm has passed. It will require one prolonged note of the siren, repeated, to pipe you back to play. Under established rules, competitors in stroke play may not discontinue play for any reason, whatever, except such as the committee may consider satisfactory.

In match play, players may seek shelter after formal agreement among themselves. The new regulations, with the committee presumably manning the sirens, simplify everything. One may wonder, though, about the legality of a shot just as the siren hoots. It would be just like the Puckish gods of golf to decree a hole-in-one in a case like that—and would it be legal?

Presumably the long, hot-stove session of the association, from which these reassuring, comforting rules now emerge, was induced by the unusual lightning gunnery on the golf courses last year. Much of the circular is given to instructions on how not to tempt lightning and, if the siren hoots, what kind of a hide-out to pick.

Whatever you do, don't stick up an umbrella, or raise a golf club over your head. Don't address the ball in the old-fashioned way. That means sticking your club up. Just upper-cut the ball cautiously and don't try to flail it. Anything above your head is provocation to lightning.

When you get the signal—three hoots—duck for a cave. If this modern improvement is lacking, pick the most promising hole in the ground you can find anywhere. Next in the order of desirability are "a deep valley, or the foot of a steep or overhanging cliff, dense woods or a grove of trees." Whatever you do, don't try to take shelter under a barbed wire fence; keep off "hilltops and wide open spaces" and "away from small sheds and shelters."

Lightning statistics for America, covering the last 12 years, show that about three persons in every million are killed every year. New York, Pennsylvania and Illinois are safest, with less than two casualties to a million each year and the Rocky.

THE GOLFING PARSON IS ACQUITTED

The golfing parson planned to play a friendly round on Monday. So tossed his clubs on Saturday. Inside his car in full display. And left them there all Sunday. He drove to church and parked before.

The temple's wide and friendly door. A dear old member of his flock. Who'd lived her life sedately. Had heard and said it was quite a shock.

The parson loved a ball to sock. A sport he'd come to lately. She saw the clubs, and said: "No doubt. He means to play when church is out!"

"Tut! Tut! Dear me! Oh me. Oh me!" The congregation muttered.

The golfing parson knew not why. Some turn of mind, the lady eye. And some no greeting uttered. He had forgot, as parsons do, He'd left those clubs in public view.

Once more I take my pen in hand. Because I truly love him. To clear the golfing parson, and To shame the members of his band.

For thinking evil of him. Those clubs were not for use on Sunday. But merely being cooled for Monday.

George V. Boyles who was born his marriage to Emmo Pearson, took his wife and two children,

Mary Boyles Clendenin and David
C. Boyles to Pitt Hole, near Oil City, where an oil field was in operation,
and worked in the office of John D.
Rockefeller. Persuaded to invest in a new well about to be drilled, the "Coquette," which came in as the largest gusher in the district, was paid $100,000 for his interest by a Pittsburgh party. He then, with his wife and children, took a flat bottom boat down the Allegheny river to Pittsburgh, with the money sewed in a leather belt. He and his wife took turns wearing the belt while the other slept, on account of the many bad characters attracted by the oil fields. The money was banked at Pittsburgh, and Mr.

Boyles returned to New Castle, where he became a partner in building the New Castle and Franklin Railway, and purchased a large farm on the north hill which was then known as "Boyles Field," bounded by Lincoln, Highland,
Moody avenue, and the Neshannock river.

He was a brother of James M.
Boyles, who operated a large dry goods store on Washington street for many years. James M. Boyles built one of the first houses on the north hill on Wallace avenue, in the "Boyles Field" addition, and was the father of Dr. E. Lee Boyles of Lincoln avenue.

Milton S. Marquis was prominent in the progress of New Castle. He was a brick manufacturer and dealer in limestone, and interested in many of the manufacturing interests of our city. He was born in Beaver county in 1830, was a son of John Marquis, and a descendant of a family of French Huguenots who landed at the head of the James river in 1706. The first pursuit of M. S. Marquis was that of a captain on the old "Cross Cut" and Beaver Valley canals, and at one time owned seventeen boats and carried on a large freight and packet business. In 1860, with O. H. P.

LITTLE THOUGHT EVER GIVEN TO MYSTERY OF BABY'S
FIRST BREATH

I don't suppose many of us ever stop to think how marvelous it is that new-born babies start to breathe at birth although they had never before taken a single breath. The second a baby is born, his lungs begin to function. Up to then they were just small, tight masses. When this first breath is taken, these lungs fill up and begin their normal duties just as though the infant had been practicing for weeks. That first wail is the most welcome sound in the world to the doctor in charge, for it is a healthy sign that has been so regarded for hundreds of years.

We know that the baby gulps in air the minute he comes into the world. We also know that occasionally babies don't take this first gulp; that if they can't be induced to take it they will die.

Breathing is a very simple action performed by two sets of muscles: one, the diaphragm; the other, the muscles controlling the ribs.

The diaphragm, a large vessel situated at the bottom of the chest cavity, separates the chest from the abdomen. When this muscle is relaxed, it fills a good deal of space in the chest; when tightened, that muscle becomes smaller and smaller, taking up less and less space in the chest cavity. The ribs are supplied with another set of muscles. These are so arranged that when they are tightened, the whole chest cavity expands, because the ribs on each side are pulled outwards and backwards.

Of course we aren't conscious that all this is going on, but it is exactly what happens each time we take a breath. That is, to take a breath, we contract the rib muscles, at the same time contracting the diaphragm. That means that as the chest expands outward, the diaphragm tightens and recedes downwards. This greatly enlarges the whole chest cavity, creating a great deal of space down which the air rushes through the windpipe.

During exhalation both sets of muscles relax, the ribs come together and the diaphragm swells up into the cavity, driving the air out.

It all sounds very simple. In fact it is quite common to hear some people remark that something or other is as "simple as taking a breath."

It is simple because our muscular system, if it is coordinated properly, takes care of it for us. But what about the infant who has never before taken a breath? It isn't so simple for his system to begin all this rather complicated procedure. He has to start off by himself.

U. S. Ambassador To Poland Makes Visit To Danzig

Has Conference With U. S. Consul

Visit Is Unofficial For Purpose Of Securing First-Hand Facts

CRUCIAL STAGE IS NOT REACHED

(International News Service)
DANZIG, July 10.—Anthony J. Drexel, Jr., United States ambassador to Poland, was in Danzig today on what was described as an unofficial visit. He took the opportunity, however, to confer with C. Porter Kuykendall, American Consul, and others who could give him first-hand information on the situation.

Warsaw's belief that the problem has not yet reached a crucial stage was borne out in two speeches by Albert Forster, Danzig Nazi leader, at Oliva and Neufahrwasser.

To Decide for Themselves
Forster repeated Danzig's desire to return to the Reich. "The people have the right to decide for themselves, and the will to go back to the Reich is stronger than ever," he said.

He drew derisive laughter when he mentioned "our good neighbor, Poland." The Corridor was described as "the product of the Versailles fraud."

He concluded with the assurance that Danzig would return to Germany "some day." Thus, his speech left the impression that the situation was much less critical than it was two weeks ago.

Final Payment Made On Organ

First Baptists Have Short Celebration As Last Payment Is Made

Prior to close of the Sunday morning service of the First Baptist church, a short ceremony was observed celebrating the payment of the final obligation of $1,568 due on the pipe organ, June 14.

R. Lawrence Hildebrand, chairman finance committee, board of trustees, made a short address reviewing the arrangements for the organ purchase in 1936 and the splendid co-operation of the church and congregation toward the punctual meeting of the payments.

Mr. Hildebrand, on behalf of Garth Edmundson, the organist, and John Owens, conductor, voiced their satisfaction with the instrument, its quality not surpassed in the city.

Robert M. Strickler, church treasurer, went to the platform and held the final cancelled note while Mr. Hildebrand fired it, thus destroying it while the congregation sang "Praise God from Whom All Blessings Flow."

Brownmiller To Seek New Trial

Plea Will Be Made In Dauphin County Court During Day

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, July 10.—A motion for a new trial for Roy E. Brownmiller, secretary of highways in the Earle administration, who was convicted of malfeasance and nonfeasance in office, will be made in Dauphin county court today.

Judge Howard W. Hughes journeyed from Washington, Pa., to hear the plea being presented by Brownmiller's counsel, former Judge J. Dress Pannell.

Judge Hughes was to decide whether the plea bore merit and if so, whether a date should be set for hearing argument. In the event he decided against the plea, he would set a date for sentence, the degree of which is dependent entirely upon the court's discretion.

Also up for action today was the contempt case against Thomas B. Wilt, an employee of the insurance firm of James P. Kirk, Pittsburgh city treasurer, and Victor Skok, whose absence at their opening trial caused a two weeks postponement, which was eventually extended to August 7. Wilt is now free on $500 bond.

Rubin Hopes To Uphold Prestige In Arena Tonight

Sparkey Jarock, Reputedly Scienced With a "Kick" Battles Mickie

MORAN, SECRETE AND CHAMBERS ON CARD

Tonight in the air-cooled Arena fans should see an old-time, drag-out affair when Mickie Rubin, the local light-heavyweight fistic satellite, battles Sparkey Jarock, effervescent 175-pounder of Cecil, Pa.

Rubin, topnotch light-heavyweight of this district and Jarock, the best in his class in Cecil territory, have been training for two weeks. Both are asserted to be "in the pink" and ready for a grueling bout.

Whether Rubin's terrific left hook can cut down Jarock or Sparkey's rapier-like left can spear back Rubin's head then land a knockout remains to be seen. Sparkey is said to be a scienced boxer with a sock. Rubin is a slugger.

Just who will prove "Who" at the end of the scrap will not be known until the last punch. The fight may end with a kayo in the first or it may go on to a grueling three round decision.

The fighters will be examined by the Jefferson A. C. physician at 7 p. m., attire themselves in pugilistic habiliment, shoes, protector, tightens and gloves and await the bell that will result in a fusillade of punches.

According to Matchmaker Tom Leach of the Jefferson A. C., sponsors of the show, sanctioned by the State Athletic commission and Amateur Athletic union, he will try to match the winner with Dave Nemeth, who beat Rubin recently.

K. O. Moran On Deck
Another scrap of more than ordinary notice will be staged when Frankie Moran, the knockout Roumanian tackles Charles Hallam of Cecil at 126 pounds. Hallam hopes to terminate Moran's succession of victories.

To do so Hallam will need to be better than Frankie Russo, the Erie-Dispatch champion, who not only was floored but decided by Moran recently. Hallam is said to be good. Fans here know Moran is.

Fans will await the appearance of Sammy Secrete, the Diamond Belt welterweight champion of Pittsburgh. He beat Harold Blank. This best describes his fistic quality.

If Tommy Burnett of Pittsburgh, his opponent, is one of the plunger-in-species, one may rest assured Secrete will win. Burnett took the fight believing that a win over Secrete would bring him many A. A. U. ring bookings at 147 pounds.

Andy Wertz, the Youngstown lad and Cecil Spotti, a Cecil star will warm each other with boxing gloves. Wertz always has fought good; in fact never failed to put up a nice fight. Spotti is said to be as good as Andy.

Joe Clamacca of Youngstown and Wes Rodgers of Grove City, who pleased fans with lots of action a few weeks ago have been re-matched and no doubt they will unfurl a lot of swings when they clash.

Ray Cruse of Ellwood City will tackle Ken Warner of Pittsburgh, at 140; Buck Chambers of West Pittsburg will battle Red Barto of Cecil, at 160; and Sam Dimsy will go on with Pete Pope, Youngstown, at 112 pounds.

The Arena, made cool by an excellent cooling system, probably will be the mecca for more than 1,000 fans because of the quality of the bouts arranged by the matchmaker.

The fighters will arrive early this evening. B. J. Biondi will represent Commissioner Harvey J. Boyle of the State Boxing commission. The A. A. U. also has sanctioned the bouts.

Tom McMahon will referee. The judges will be named tonight. The first bout will start at 8:30 p. m.

Balla Pitches Slovaks To Win

Allows Columbus Club But Five Hits In 10-2 Victory, Fruitt And Wrona Club Ball Hard

James "Shimmy" Balla pitched a beautiful five-hit game at the E. & A. field yesterday, giving the Slovak Club first-half City League champions, a 10 to 2 win over the Columbus Club.

Helping Balla no end was Fruitt, the clever Slovak center-fielder who kicked in four hits. "Red" Wrona clubbed out three hits, and "Alabama" Kirol, Budai and Cash Koszela had two hits apiece.

The Slovaks climbed all over Rainey, Nocera and Orelli getting a total of 15 hits. Miron was the third baseman for the Columbus club.

Manager Steve "Fat" Gonda of the Slovaks has called an important meeting of all players at the club rooms tonight at 8:30 o'clock. Matters of grave concern will be discussed.

When he received his sheepskin last month, Class B mentors throughout the district breathed a sigh of relief. Throughout his high school career, Shoup made it miserable for opposing teams. If he was plowing his powerful frame through the frontier line, he was mowing down the opposition with perfect blocks. Then again, if he was performing this phase of the game, he was behind pugilist like Pug Lund. When it comes to kicking the point after touchdown, we doubt very much if you can find a high school gragger in the country who can match Shoup's ability in booting the pigskin between the uprights. In his entire high school career, Shoup missed less than a dozen shots at the uprights. He played fullback. To keep on the active list, Shoup made the varsity basketball team. Shoup should be equally as good in Collegiate ranks as he was in Class B circle. He has what it takes....

Lawrence Indies Trip K. Pulaski
Paul Coates Returns To Baseball Circles And Wins For Indies 10-4

With the veteran Paul Coates in the box, making a comeback, the Lawrence Indies got started on the right foot as the second-half of the City Baseball league opened yesterday at Cedar street by taking the measure of the K. Pulaski team 10 to 4.

Although found for 10 hits, the veteran Coates was very effective with the Pulaskis on bases. He fanned four batters. The Pulaskis used four pitchers to try and stop the Indies hitters, but to no avail. Cenera had the feature hit of the game, a rousing home run. He also had two singles, and John Wilk also had three of the Indies hits.

Yanks Defeated Twice By Boston

Five Straight Defeats At Hands Of Boston Red Sox, New Record Set

PIRATES-CARDINALS SPLIT TWIN BILL

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 10.—The nation's baseball fans today paused in their discussion of Tuesday's all-star game to scratch their heads over the strange fate which has overtaken the New York Yankees and caused them to drop their last five straight to the second-place Boston Red Sox.

The Red Sox, probably as astonished as everybody else, yesterday capped the amazing rout of the dreaded champions by taking the second successive doubleheader from the Yankees, 4 to 3 and 5 to 3, cutting their American League lead to six games, the lowest in nearly two months. A homer by Manager Joe Cronin with one on in the eighth inning won the first game and Jimmy Fox's 14th in the eighth with a mate on won the nightcap.

Five Defeats In Row

Never before have the Yanks lost five straight this year and veteran fans had a hard time remembering back to when the McCarthy man dropped two straight twin bills.

At the start of this month the Yankees led by 13½ games and appeared to be "in." A crowd of 47,652 saw the Yanks drop their seventh and eighth out of their last 11 contests. Ninth-inning errors gave the Chicago White Sox a 4 to 3 victory over the Detroit Tigers in the first game of a twin bill, although the Sox got but four hits. Buck Newsum was the unlucky pitcher. Chicago also took the second game 6 to 3.

In the other American league tilts, Cleveland dropped the hapless St. Louis Browns, 10 to 2 and 5 to 1, and Washington won a double from Philadelphia, 5 to 4 and 10 to 3. Jeff Heath socked two homers for the Indians in the opener as did Bill Nessel for the Athletics.

In the National League Cincinnati trounced the Chicago Cubs, 13 to 1. Bucky Walters giving five hits, to keep a winning pace at the head of the loop. The second place New York Giants remained 5½ games to the rear by nipping the Brooklyn Dodgers, 3 to 2. St. Louis split with the Pittsburgh Pirates, winning the opener, 7 to 3, as Morton Cooper pitched and dropping the nightcap, 8 to 6. Johnny Mize rapped a homer for the Cards in each game.

The Phillies tumbled the Boston Bees twice. Walter Higbe hurled a six-hit, 3 to 1 triumph in the first test, and Philadelphia annexed the nightcap, 7 to 6.

WILL PLAY TONIGHT

The Fannins of the Class B league will play the Seventh Ward Progressives tonight at the Radiator field at 6 o'clock. Fazzino or Theopilos will handle the pitching end for the Fannins. Tuesday the Fannins and Trogiros will play a league game at Butler Road field at 6 o'clock. Cowden will face the Trogiros. Polonick will be on the hill for the Trogiros.

International News Service Financial Writer

NEW YORK, July 10.—The stock market ruled a shade higher today, but showed no signs of breaking out of its recent apathetic trading range. Turnover in the first hour was limited to 80,000 shares.

At the morning peaks, Chrysler, National Steel American Telephone and Borg-Warner each were up about a point. U. S. Smelting, meanwhile dropped as much.

Fractional improvement was shown by U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Westinghouse Electric, DuPont, N. Y. Central, Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck, Public Service of N. J., Boeing, Electric Auto-Lite, Phelps-Dodge, Kennecott, American Smelting and U. S. Rubber.

Among the few minus signs were Pennsylvania R. R., General Motors, Union Carbide and Air Reduction.

Tip to Killer
Michael Kilbane
It was with this knife that Cleveland police believe a 52-year-old suspect dismembered Mrs. Florence Polillo, one of the 12 torso victims whom he is quoted as confessing he killed. The suspect, unnamed at first, had been questioned for hours in the four-year-old mystery. Chief Jailer Michael Kilbane holds the knife.

Plan Purchase
Of Some Game For Restocking State

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, July 10.—The game commission has approved the purchase of more than $10,000 worth of game for restocking depleted areas of the commonwealth after the hunting season this fall and in the spring of 1940.

Whether or not it will be able to purchase all the species and the numbers desired is problematical, Col. Biddle, president said, but added that "every effort will be made to do so."

The game to be purchased included 50,000 cottontail rabbits, 9,000 ringneck pheasants, 6,000 Hungarian partridges, 3500 bob-white quail and raccoons as available.

In addition to the funds set up for purchasing game, the commission appropriated $25,000 for the trapping and transfer of rabbits and pheasants from propagating areas institutional grounds, etc. which it anticipates will produce upwards of 40,000 additional rabbits for stock-purposes and in the neighborhood of more than 10,000 ringnecks.

The commission also allocated more than $180,000 for the operation and expansion of the four state game farms during the coming year to increase the production of game birds—especially bob-white, quail—for spring release.

Turnpike Paving
Starts; Work On Tunnels Advances

Construction Of Super-Highway Shows Progress Is Being Maintained

HARRISBURG, July 10.—The Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission is near the paving stage in construction of its 160-mile super-highway between Harrisburg and Pittsburgh.

Construction work has centered on grading and drainage—preparing the roadbed for laying of surface. And now the Commission contemplates completing the final plans for that work early this month.

To date the Commission has opened bids for 134.42 miles of grading and drainage and for 10.28 miles of twin concrete lanes, the first section to be paved. All contracts for the seven tunnels that will carry the Turnpike through the Appalachian Mountains have been awarded with work well underway on each tunnel.

Contracts awarded to date total more than $25,000,000. The sum covers all but about 22 miles of the total mileage, on which bids have been received.
